Overview

Primary: Long/Short Global Large Cap Equities

Secondary (overlay): Global Macro

Artificial Intelligence (AI) is used to avoid behavioural bias, with additional benefits of productivity, consistency and processing exponential data. On a quarterly basis it replicates the best human Econometric, Fundamental, Qualitative, Quantitative, Technical and Traditional analysis of US and Chinese economies, US interest rates and individual securities, also it reads documentation and provides sentiment analysis on news flow. Immediate liquidity is provided by only trading in securities with a market capitalisation in excess of $1bn with a listing either in the US, as an ADR, in London or Canada. When performance is not adequate the AI is re-coded. Net positioning can range between 100% long and 20% short
